Rulemaking for the Selection of Private Architects and Engineers

The Department of Transportation (Department) proposes to adopt as permanent regulations new and amended regulations that establish the procedures for selection of private architects and engineers. The Department will consider all comments, objections, and recommendations specifically directed at the proposed action or the procedures followed before the Department adopts the proposed rulemaking action.

This site contains the following items related to the proposed rulemaking:

- The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking \(28K nopr.pdf\) including an informative digest of the proposal in plain English, which includes estimates of fiscal impact of the proposal, discussion of alternatives, information about how to contact the Department, and related items
- The Initial Statement of Reasons \(16K isr.pdf\) that relates the purpose of each provision, the reason it is needed, the additional materials that the Department relied on in developing the proposal, and related information
- The Text of the Proposed Regulations \(33K topr.pdf\) as originally noticed to the public

The Office of Administrative Law has made no decisions yet regarding the proposed rulemaking.

The proposed rulemaking has not yet been filed with the Secretary of State.

The rulemaking is still a proposal; therefore, there is no effective date of adoption yet.
